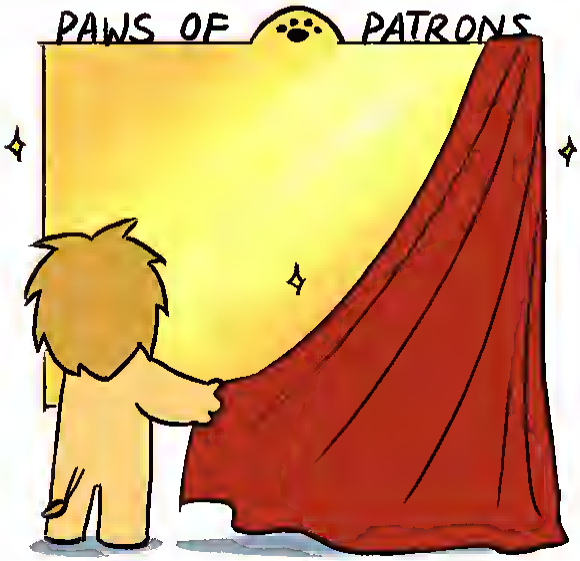
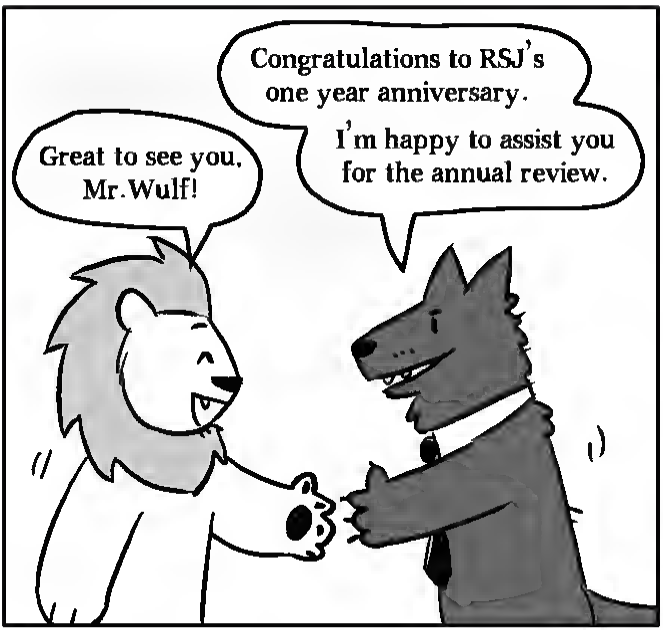
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

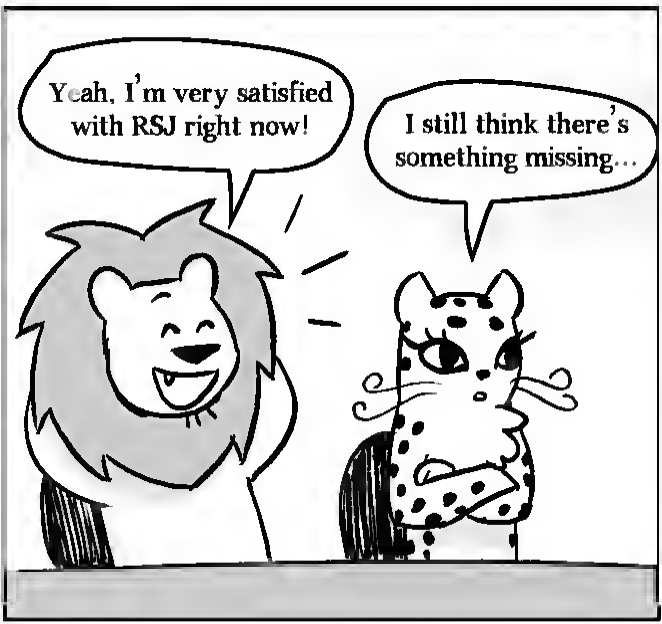
RSJ Annual Review: Patrons



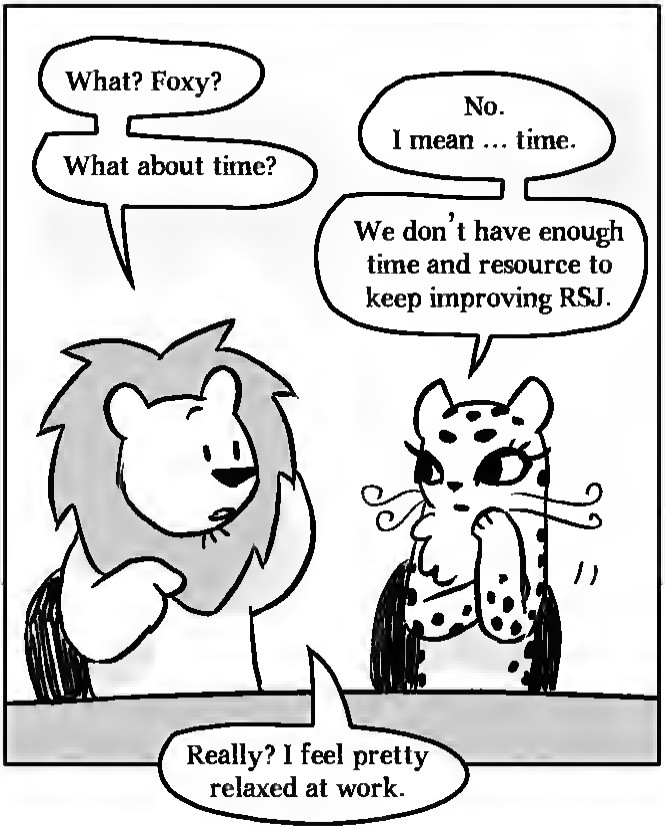


Great to see you, Mr.Wulf!
Congratulations to RSJ's one year anniversary.
I'm happy to assist you for the annual review.

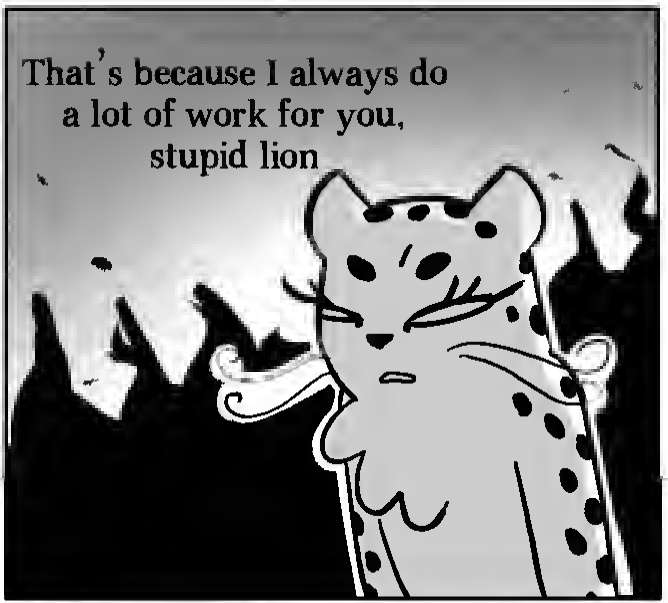
Roar Street Journal is running pretty well with positive feedback and regular readers.
Colored episodes have great responses.



Yeah, I'm very satisfied with RSJ right now!
I still think there's something missing...



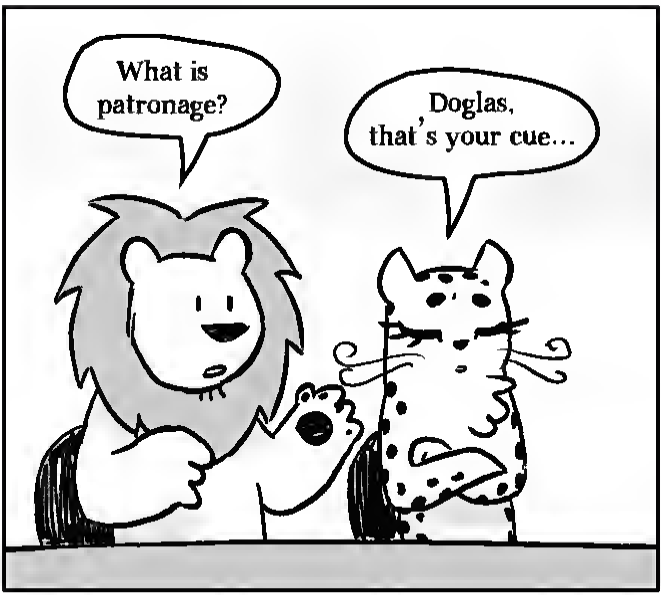
What? Foxy?
What about time?
No.
I mean ... time.
We don't have enough time and resource to keep improving RSJ.
Really? I feel pretty relaxed at work.



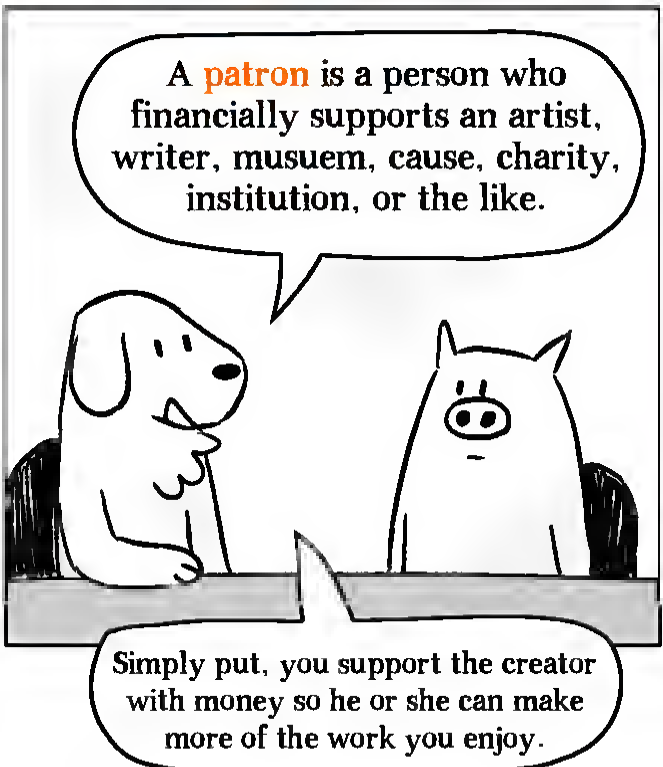
That's because I always do
a lot of work for you,
stupid lion

I agree that you should keep improving.

If RSJ is short on time and resource, you can try looking for sources of support.
Have you considered patronage?



What is patronage?
Doglas, that's your cue...



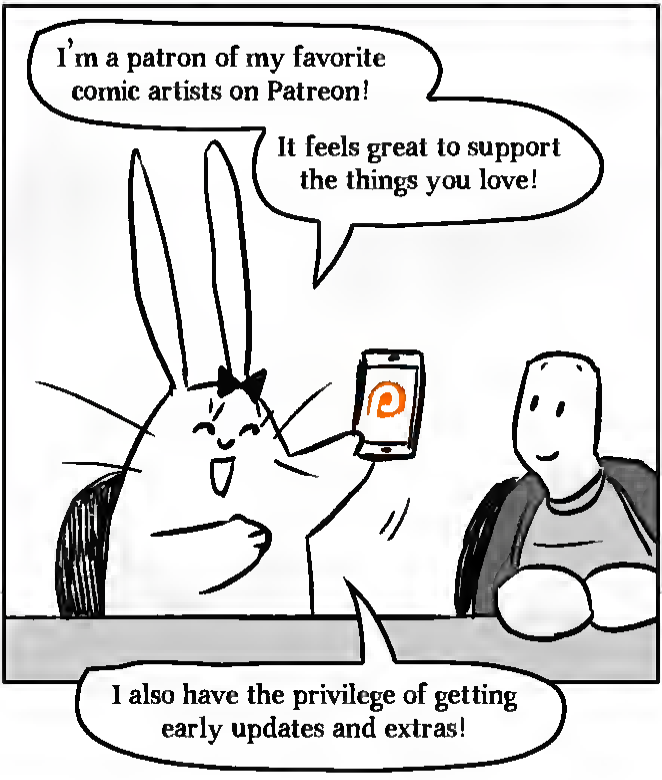
A patron is a person who financially supports an artist, writer, musuem, cause, charity, institution, or the like.
Simply put, you support the creator with money so he or she can make more of the work you enjoy.

Great idea! I'd definitely support my favorite comic artists and singers!
How about you guys?
SHUT UP AND TAKE MY MONEY

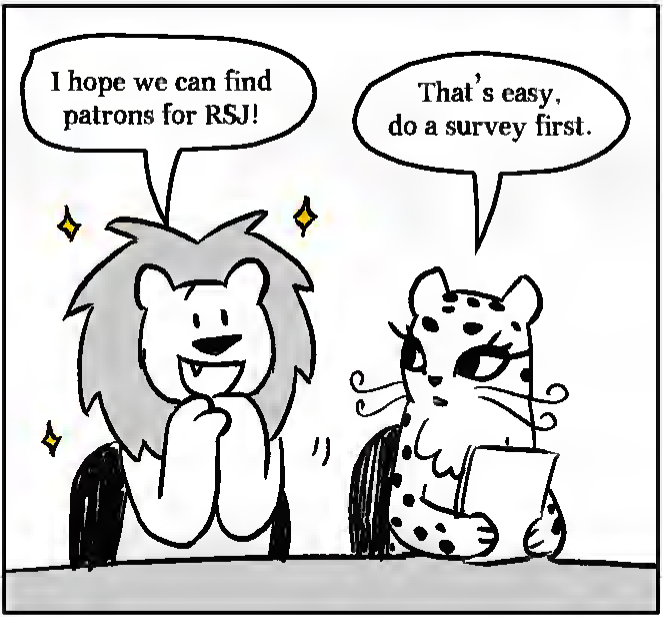
I'm happy to patronize my favorite film directors and authors.
GUNS, RMS AND STEEL
INDIE ART HOUSE FILMS

I will patronize my favorite musicians.
30 Second to Jupito
Cool Play

I am a patron of various charities and good deeds.
And I was Foxy's patron.



I'm a patron of my favorite comic artists on Patreon!
It feels great to support the things you love!
I also have the privilege of getting early updates and extras!



I hope we can find patrons for RSJ!
That's easy, do a survey first.
